Preamble

The licenses for most software are designed to take aw freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU G Public
Licenses are intended to guarantee your freedom to sha free software--to make sure the software is free for a

This license, the Lesser General Public License, appli

You can use it too, but we suggest you first think careful whether this license or the ordinary General Public License is strategy to use in any particular case, based on the e below.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to fr it in new free programs; and that you are informed tha these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions t distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to these rights. These restrictions translate to certain respon

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rig

We protect your rights with a two-step method: (1) we the library, and (2) we offer you this license, which give permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the libra

To protect each distributor, we want to make it very c there is no warranty for the free library. Also, if th is modified by someone else and passed on, the recipients that what they have is not the original version, so th original author's reputation will not be affected by problems t introduced by others.

Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to th any free program. We wish to make sure that a company effectively restrict the users of a free program by ob restrictive license from a patent holder. Therefore, w that any patent license obtained for a version of the libra consistent with the full freedom of use specified in t license.

Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covere ordinary GNU General Public License. This license, the General Public License, applies to certain designated and is quite different from the ordinary General Public Li this license for certain libraries in order to permit those libraries into non-free programs.

When a program is linked with a library, whether stati a shared library, the combination of the two is legall a combined work, a derivative of the original library. T General Public License therefore permits such linking entire combination fits its criteria of freedom. The L Public License permits more lax criteria for linking o with the library.

We call this license the "Lesser" General Public Licen does Less to protect the user's freedom than the ordin Public License. It also provides other free software d Less of an advantage over competing non-free programs. Thes disadvantages are the reason we use the ordinary General Public Lice libraries. However, the Lesser license provides advant certain special circumstances.

For example, on rare occasions, there may be a special a de-facto standard. To achieve this, non-free program allowed to use the library. A more frequent case is th library does the same job as widely used non-free libr this case, there is little to gain by limiting the free lib software only, so we use the Lesser General Public Lic

In other cases, permission to use a particular library programs enables a greater number of people to use a l of free software. For example, permission to use the GNU non-free programs enables many more people to use the operating system, as well as its variant, the GNU/Linu system.

Although the Lesser General Public License is Less pro users' freedom, it does ensure that the user of a prog linked with the Library has the freedom and the wherew that program using a modified version of the Library.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribu portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications a translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, included without limitation in the term "modification"

"Source code" for a work means the preferred form of t making modifications to it. For a library, complete so all the source code for all modules it contains, plus associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to c compilation and installation of the library.

Activities other than copying, distribution and modifi covered by this License; they are outside its scope. T running a program using the Library is not restricted, from such a program is covered only if its contents constit based on the Library (independent of the use of the Library writing it). Whether that is true depends on what the does and what the program that uses the Library does.

1. You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the complete source code as you receive it, in any medium,
that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each co appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warrant

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferr

d) If a facility in the modified Library refers to a f the facility, other than as an argument passed when th is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to

that,
in the event an application does not supply such funct table, the facility still operates, and performs whate its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute squar a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that an application-supplied function or table used by this fu be optional: if the application does not supply it, th root function must still compute square roots.)

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whc

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim ri your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, t
to exercise the right to control the distribution of deri collective works based on the Library.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not base that the user who changes the contents of definitions

c) Accompany the work with a written offer, valid for least three years, to give the same user the materials than the cost of performing this distribution.

d) If distribution of the work is made by offering acc

e) Verify that the user has already received a copy of the materials to be distributed need not include anyth major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operat which the executable runs, unless that component itsel

It may happen that this requirement contradicts the li restrictions of other proprietary libraries that do no accompany the operating system. Such a contradiction m

The FreeType Project

Project Home Page: http://www.freetype.org/

Portions of this software are copyright Â© 2000-2012 The FreeType Project (www.freetype.org). All rights reserved.

Licensed under the FreeType License.

The FreeType Project LICENSE

2006-Jan-27

Copyright 1996-2002, 2006 by David Turner, Robert Wilhelm, and Werner Lemberg

Introduction

The FreeType Project is distributed in several archive packages; some of them may contain, in addition to the FreeType font engine, various tools and contributions which rely on, or relate to, the FreeType Project.

This license applies to all files found in such packages, and which do not fall under their own explicit license. The license affects thus the FreeType font engine, the test programs, documentation and makefiles, at the very least.

This license was inspired by the BSD, Artistic, and IJG (Independent JPEG Group) licenses, which all encourage inclusion and use of free software in commercial and freeware products alike. As a consequence, its main points are that:

o We don't promise that this software works. However, we will be interested in any kind of bug reports. (`as is' distribution)

o You can use this software for whatever you want, in parts or full form, without having to pay us. (`royalty-free' usage)

o You may not pretend that you wrote this software. If you use it, or only parts of it, in a program, you must acknowledge somewhere in your documentation that you have used the FreeType code. (`credits')

We specifically permit and encourage the inclusion of this software, with or without modifications, in commercial products. We disclaim all warranties covering The FreeType Project and assume no liability related to The FreeType Project.

Finally, many people asked us for a preferred form for a credit/disclaimer to use in compliance with this license. We thus encourage you to use the following text:

""" Portions of this software are copyright Â© <year> The FreeType Project (www.freetype.org). All rights reserved. """

Please replace <year> with the value from the FreeType version you actually use.

Legal Terms

0. Definitions

Throughout this license, the terms `package', `FreeType Project', and `FreeType archive' refer to the set of files originally distributed by the authors (David Turner, Robert Wilhelm, and Werner Lemberg) as the `FreeType Project', be they named as alpha, beta or final release.

`You' refers to the licensee, or person using the project, where `using' is a generic term including compiling the project's source code as well as linking it to form a `program' or `executable'. This program is referred to as `a program using the FreeType engine'.

This license applies to all files distributed in the original FreeType Project, including all source code, binaries and documentation, unless otherwise stated in the file in its original, unmodified form as distributed in the original archive. If you are unsure whether or not a particular file is covered by this license, you must contact us to verify this.

The FreeType Project is copyright (C) 1996-2000 by David Turner, Robert Wilhelm, and Werner Lemberg. All rights reserved except as specified below.

1. No Warranty

THE FREETYPE PROJECT IS PROVIDED `AS IS' WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. IN NO EVENT WILL ANY OF THE AUTHORS OR COPYRIGHT HOLDERS BE LIABLE FOR ANY DAMAGES CAUSED BY THE USE OR THE INABILITY TO USE, OF THE FREETYPE PROJECT.

2. Redistribution

This license grants a worldwide, royalty-free, perpetual and irrevocable right and license to use, execute, perform, compile, display, copy, create derivative works of, distribute and sublicense the FreeType Project (in both source and object code forms) and derivative works thereof for any purpose; and to authorize others to exercise some or all of the rights granted herein, subject to the following conditions:

o Redistribution of source code must retain this license file (`FTL.TXT') unaltered; any additions, deletions or changes to the original files must be clearly indicated in accompanying documentation. The copyright notices of the unaltered, original files must be preserved in all copies of source files.

o Redistribution in binary form must provide a disclaimer that states that the software is based in part of the work of the FreeType Team, in the distribution documentation. We also encourage you to put an URL to the FreeType web page in your documentation, though this isn't mandatory.

These conditions apply to any software derived from or based on the FreeType Project, not just the unmodified files. If you use our work, you must acknowledge us. However, no fee need be paid to us.

3. Advertising

Neither the FreeType authors and contributors nor you shall use the name of the other for commercial, advertising, or promotional purposes without specific prior written permission.

We suggest, but do not require, that you use one or more of the following phrases to refer to this software in your documentation or advertising materials: `FreeType Project', `FreeType Engine', `FreeType library', or `FreeType Distribution'.

As you have not signed this license, you are not required to accept it. However, as the FreeType Project is copyrighted material, only this license, or another one contracted with the authors, grants you the right to use, distribute, and modify it. Therefore, by using, distributing, or modifying the FreeType Project, you indicate that you understand and accept all the terms of this license.

4. Contacts

There are two mailing lists related to FreeType:

o freetype@nongnu.org

Discusses general use and applications of FreeType, as well as future and wanted additions to the library and distribution. If you are looking for support, start in this list if you haven't found anything to help you in the documentation.

o freetype-devel@nongnu.org

Discusses bugs, as well as engine internals, design issues, specific licenses, porting, etc.
